

ASZK Animal Training Workshop Tidbinbilla ACT – 24 – 25 May 17

The ASZK Animal Training and Conditioning Sub Committee is delighted to be able to hold animal training workshops prior to this years' ASZK Annual Conference.

The sub-committee is made up of a number of highly skilled animal trainers from within the Australasian Zoo industry. We will have information for all levels from beginners – day one – to more advanced trainer's day two. Below is information on the workshop.

Day One – Beginners – 24 May "Introduction to Animal Training"

Developed by the ASZK Training and Conditioning Sub-Committee, this day will give people with little or no experience in animal training the basic knowledge of methods and terminology currently used within the Australasian Zoo community. The course will be facilitated by a number of training committee members, giving participants the benefit of a wide range of experience in the animal training industry. Those attending day 1 are also then welcome to attend the second day of advanced training concepts.

Day Two – Intermediate – Advanced - 25 May "Advanced training concepts"

Following on from our beginner's day the training committee representatives will be focusing on more advanced training concepts and how to apply them to your situation.

We will also be visiting National Zoo during the afternoon to watch some of these concepts put into practice in a real situation.

The workshops will be held at Birrigai at Tidbinbilla Nature Reserve where accommodation is also provided for those requiring it. Day registrations will be available for those local to the area. For those paying the non-member rate 12 month ASZK membership will be available as part of the package.

During the workshop, morning, afternoon tea and lunch will be provided.

Early-bird rates apply until 15th April after which the full registration fee price will apply.

Registrations will open shortly
