Wildlife Education Officer FULL TIME

- Unique opportunity working with and handling a variety of native Australian animals
- Present education based programs on native Australian wildlife
- Full-Time Opportunity available

Dreamworld Corroboree is one of the largest native wildlife parks in South East Queensland with hundreds of native animals including the second largest koala population in the world.

We're currently looking for a dedicated wildlife professional to join our team as a Wildlife Education Officer. The primary responsibility of a Wildlife Education Officer is to present education based programs on native Australian wildlife to local and international visitors and groups in park. Animal handling and husbandry duties are included as well as record keeping and report writing.

To be considered for this role you must demonstrate outstanding communication and public speaking skills, a friendly and outgoing personality as well as a high standard of personal presentation. You will have a minimum of 4 years' paid experience working with wildlife, knowledge of animal handling, husbandry and conditioning practices, and a good general knowledge of Australian native fauna. A current manual driver's license is necessary, and formal qualifications in education and/or wildlife will be highly regarded.

Flexibility with working hours across a 7 day roster is essential as weekend work will be involved. This is a physically demanding role that involves animal husbandry tasks and manual handling, therefore a high level of energy and physical fitness is required to perform manual handling tasks and physically demanding work.

Apply Online Now! Your application should include your Current CV and a cover letter outlining your suitability for the role. Apply via the following link: <https://bit.ly/2u6nHPP> or by using the QR code.
